Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 52 and 59 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 52 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 2 of copending Application No. 11/580,409.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims are substantially identical, with the exception that the claim of the present application specifically claims a microphone whereas the '409 application merely claims "means for receiving a voice command at the badge" This is not a patentable distinction because the means for receiving could only be a microphone in this context, and any "means for" transducing a voice signal into an electrical signal functionally is a microphone. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to that the presently claimed microphone is a substantial equivalent and interchangeable with the limitations “means for receiving a voice command” in the ‘409 application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim 59 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 7 of copending Application No. 11/580,409.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons cited with respect to claim 52 with respect to claim 2 of the ‘409 application as stated above, as both are dependent claims which add identical limitations to their respective parent claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
